A further notification to interested parties and legislators wouldn't be necessary. I'm responsible for the GovDelivery and email to legislators, and had not yet notified either of the rulemaking proposal.

Joanie,

Would you see to it that the agenda item regarding the temporary diesel grant rule is removed from the October EQC agenda? I appreciate that the materials have already been distributed. It would be best if we were able to get it repositioned for the December meeting.

I believe that Stephanie has already posted a notification to the Gov Delivery lists as well as the required legislators. I don't believe that rescheduling is going to result in any upset parties but you should let me know if you think any further notification is necessary.

Based on this I suggest we pull the Diesel temporary rule from the EQC meeting this month and propose it for adoption at the next EQC meeting.

Hello,

I was just talking with Jill and she informs me there is a chance the omnibus rule that includes the permanent diesel grant rule may not go to the Commission in March 2014. I would suggest it means we need to reschedule the temporary rule.

The temporary rule is good for only six months. If we filed it in October, it would expire in March 2014 just as the permanent rule was to be adopted as part of the omnibus rule. If the omnibus/permanent rule is delayed it will create a gap in authority. Now I understand the next EQC meeting after March would be June 2014, leaving a 3 month gap where the relevant diesel grant rule would not be in place. This raises a question as to what happens to projects underway during this period.

I understand the next EQC meeting for the temporary rule would be December 2013, which would be sufficient to provide a six month coverage period before the permanent rule is considered in June 2014.

As you decide how to proceed with timing on the omnibus rule and the issue raised there now, consider whether we need to reschedule Commission consideration of the temporary rule.
