Yep, agree – that was the comment I basically included from the version I sent last night, Jill.

Thanks!

You need to reference the temporary rules rationale in the addendum also. And I think you should specifically refer to the rules at temporary rules. Here's a quick attempt at language:

"I move that the Commission approve and adopt the findings justifying adoption of a temporary rule as set forth in the staff report and the addendum to the staff report, and that the Commission adopt the proposed temporary rules in attachment A1, as amended by the addendum, as part of chapter 240 of the Oregon Administrative Rules."

The last slide in EQC presentation is this:

Recommendation

DEQ recommends that the Environmental Quality Commission:

Adopt the proposed rules in attachment A1, including the addendum, as part of chapter 340 of the Oregon Administrative Rules.

Since it specifically mentions the addendum, are we covered?

I am concerned that the way we are presenting the revisions in the temporary rules to EQC could result in them not being legally adopted.

The original staff report recommends that EQC adopt the original rules in Attachment A. Unless we change something, EQC will adopt the original rules without the revisions in the addendum.

We need to either:

- Change the recommendation in the original staff report to propose that EQC adopt the rules in Attachment A along with the revisions in the addendum, or
- Substitute the revised rules, that include the amendments, that I included with my revised version of the staff report, for the current version of the rules in the original attachment A
- Place my revised staff report, with the revised rules and the addendum, before EQC so they vote on and adopt the revised rules
