Hi All,

Hooray! I want to take this opportunity to say, “Well done!” to our presenters at yesterday’s EQC meeting, and to the whole team for pulling together on the art glass rule. It was a great experience to work with you all on this challenging and meaningful project that we took on. As far as I can tell, this is what working at an environmental agency is all about- taking an environmental/human health problem, and working through the messy process of doing something about it.

Anyway, I’ve been really impressed with the skill and dedication brought to this team, and I’m glad to have been a part of it. I hope to have more chances to work with y’all in the future.

-Joe
