Hi Everyone,

Originally I was planning to do a 45 day notice without any extensions but if we get request for an extension, it would look bad to deny it. SO….I am proposing a 30+ day notice and doing an extension (regardless of whether we get a request or not). Here's the proposed schedule:

June 16 – public notice starts
June 30 – extend notice to August 4
July 1 – SOS bulletin
July 16 – hearing
July 21 – original notice ends
August 4 – extended notice ends

That's a full 7 week and 1 day notice. If someone requests an extension at the end of the extended notice, I want to be able to deny that request. What do you think?

Thanks,
Jill
