From: GOLDSTEIN Meyer
To: THOMPSON Michele
Subject: RE: external rulemaking web pages
Date: Thursday, July 02, 2015 12:23:01

This came from some questions we got about the current pm 2.5 rulemaking – someone wanted to know where they could find the draft rules. I wanted to say the actual names of the included documents so people would know what's there – and normally that's invitation to comment, notice, and draft rules.

Meyer Goldstein
Oregon Department of Environmental Quality
Agency Rules Coordinator
503-229-6478
811 SW 6th St.
Portland, OR 97204
Telecommute Fridays 7 a.m – 4 p.m.
Telecommute Phone – 503-512-9028

From: THOMPSON Michele
Sent: Thursday, July 02, 2015 12:12 PM
To: GOLDSTEIN Meyer
Subject: RE: external rulemaking web pages

Finally getting back on these…

I think the place to start is a list of what that public notice packet includes. We might also rename it to describe what its purpose is. When I think "public notice packet" I think it pretty much only has the public notice.

For example:
Rulemaking Documents for Review
Includes public notice, a summary of the rulemaking, draft rules, and the meaning of life

There are other possibilities, of course. I'm just spitballing.

Michele Thompson
Web and SharePoint Representative
Oregon Department of Environmental Quality
503.229.6756
thompson.michele@deq.state.or.us

I'll find a tree as wide as ten fat men
Clear water rilling over its gray roots
Berries I'll find, and crab apples and nuts,
And call it home.

I'll tell the wind my name, and no one else…

Neil Gaiman, Going Wodwo

From: GOLDSTEIN Meyer
Sent: Tuesday, June 30, 2015 8:14 AM
To: THOMPSON Michele
Subject: external rulemaking web pages

It seems like the public has a hard time finding the specific documents they are interested in during our public comment period. Nancy Cardwell has an open comment now and she keeps getting calls and emails asking where the rule-related documents are. The link to those documents on each rulemaking's web page just says "public notice packet." For future rulemakings, do you think it would help either to add a heading over that link, or change the name of the link, to say "rulemaking summary – public notice – draft rules"?

Thanks.

Meyer Goldstein
Oregon Department of Environmental Quality
Agency Rules Coordinator
503-229-6478
811 SW 6th St.
Portland, OR 97204
Telecommute Fridays 7 a.m – 4 p.m.
Telecommute Phone – 503-512-9028