We already have a mailbox that is just for preserving emails about the 2017 rulemaking: riskbased2017@deq.state.or.us.

I suggest that Emil ask the helpdesk to create another mailbox just for receiving questions about this subject and the rulemaking, named something like airtoxicsquestions@deq.state.or.us and post the link on our web pages and cleanerairoregon.

We should also check with Emil to see if the rules email box needs to be copied on relies.

Yes I think that is great and will be useful.

In addition, I am worried about process and protocol. Do we have one email box where all of these sort of emails should go and be responded to in the order received? The one we set up a long time ago? Or is there a new one on CAO webpage? Is this a question for MG? I don't want all of you spending time on lots of various emails every day (or worse more than one of us doing the same work).

Leah,
Great idea! I agree that a protocol would be really helpful.

I was going to start an internal Q and A for questions on the technical work group, based on info we already have in the charter, and Lydia's internal web.

Is that at least a starting place for ensuring consistent content for emails?

Thank you,
Sue.

Please do not respond yet. We need to determine how we will handle lots of email questions about rulemaking. I do not want to start a pattern where all of us are responding all the time.

Sue – you, Jaclyn and I (or Lydia) need to come up with a protocol and response.

Leah

Hello,

I see risk management specialists but I don't see any one on the technical workgroup roster who will be speaking from a public health perspective. I see a lot of technical people attached to either government or industry. Who will be raising public health concerns in this group?

Thanks,
Katharine Salzmann
