Subject:	DEQ influence on City of Portland CAGM baghouse permitting time?
Date:	Wednesday, September 14, 2016 11:38:13 AM

Hi Jaclyn,

Do you know if Leah or others at DEQ have attempted to contact the City of Portland about CAGM baghouse permitting delays? Is Leah already aware of the issue?

I got a call from Al Hooton at Glass Alchemy this morning. He said that he expected a 6-12 month delay in receiving their City of Portland permit to proceed with baghouse install. I've heard similar things from Northstar. We have the compliance extension provision in our proposal but even with that, if baghouse install is delayed that means either uncontrolled emissions for longer or the financial hit to CAGMs is larger because they have a longer period of being unable to produce their full product line.

We've worked hard to expedite the temp and permanent CAGM rulemakings. If everything's held up 6-12 months that wouldn't be great for anyone. Al said Speaker Kotek has tried (?) to ask the City to prioritize permits related to public health. DEQ could consider trying to amplify that view.
