Subject: FYI re new art glass EQC date, will set next Monday 8/1
Date: Wednesday, July 27, 2016 1:05:11 PM

Hi Keith,

FYI- I misspoke about getting a new EQC date set. Stephanie Caldera is back in the office now but I plan to wait until a meeting next Monday 8/1 to get a revised date. (That will allow for coordination with CAO, which is something Leah requested.)

So far that meeting is between me, Jaclyn, Sue Langston, and Stephanie Caldera. I can include you as well if you'd like.

Thanks, Joe. You don't need to include me. I am fine with whatever is best for everyone involved!

Hi Leah,

FYI- I've scheduled a meeting for Monday August 1st to try to find an earlier date for the art glass EQC meeting. I'd do this sooner but folks are out-of-office.

I don't think you need to be there on 8/1 but I'm happy to add you to the invite if you'd like to be.

Hi All,

My understanding is that EQC currently has Monday, October 3rd on their schedule to meet and consider proposed art glass permanent rules.

We're considering trying to move that forward 1-2 weeks because that would 1) help with source testing compliance deadlines, particularly for Tier 1 facilities and 2) may free up DEQ staff who are splitting their time between both rulemaking processes. This also depends on whether EQC is OK with getting the rulemaking package 3-4 weeks in advance instead of 5 weeks.

Let's have a short meeting to pick an EQC date that hopefully will work for EQC members, stakeholders and our staff.

Sue, I'm including you in case there are CAO deadlines or meetings that we ought to work around.
