Hi Cheryl,

I talked briefly with Jacob Sherman today, and he mentioned having talked with you as well.

I'm now working on a smaller piece of the pie, the rulemaking to make the temporary art glass rule permanent. I'm gathering together a fiscal advisory committee and thought I'd loop you in more than I have so far.

The committee membership Leah and Jill suggested includes the folks listed below. Jacob is a 'maybe' and will let me know tomorrow. Let me know if you have thoughts about the best composition of the committee from your perspective.

This is a fiscal advisory committee, so narrowly focused on reviewing the fiscal impact and scheduled to meet one time for 2-3 hours, before the public comment period opens.

Subject: artglass2016 update on fiscal advisory committee for art glass permanent rule

Hi Leah,

An update on the art glass permanent rulemaking:

I've contacted all 8 of the potential fiscal advisory committee members we identified. Most have volunteered to participate, one declined, and I'm waiting to hear back from a few of them.

So far it sounds like Friday May 27th is a likely date for the advisory committee meeting. I hope to finalize the composition of the committee and set the date and time for the meeting in the next few days.

There are more details below. Feel free to call or email if you have questions.

-Joe

Name	Organization	result
Eric Durrin	Bullseye Glass Company	Yes, can be on committee. Available that week. May have to opt out due to class action lawsuit, will ask his corporate counsel.
Eric Lovell	Uroboros Glass Studios, Inc.	declined to participate. Worried that public meeting would be a hostile situation. Willing to help offline with developing cost estimates.
Abe Fleishman	Northstar Glassworks	Yes, can be on committee. Available Th and F (5/26 and 5/27). Company is proceeding with baghouse install and has costs.
Bob Nemhauser	Trautman Art Glass	Yes, can be on committee. Available T, W and F (5/24, 25 and 27). Could be available on Th if absolutely necessary, but inconvenient. Very busy after Friday 5/27.
Al Hooton	Glass Alchemy, Ltd	Interested in participating, but needs to check w corporate counsel. Available that whole week except for morning of Thursday 5/26.
Chris Winter	CRAG law center	Yes, can be on committee. Out 5/23 and 5/24, back W so prefers not then. Th and F (5/26 and 5/27) OK.
Jacob Sherman	PSU & neighborhood groups	I didn't have a phone number, so I emailed to invite him on 4/27/2016
Mark Riskedahl	NW Environmental Defense Center	I called and talked to him on 4/27. May be interested, he'll check calendar and get back to me.
