Ok.
Fyi – I plan to have the documents ready and to send her an email (with links) by Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

I will combine them. Just to be clear, you don't actually send documents to her, just the links. They need to get into final form and she will read the explanation in the notice.

Meyer,
I will be cleaning up and sending documents to Lydia for review soon.
The rule notice document captures both elements.
Shall we keep the draft ballast rule and draft noise rules in separate documents for her review or do they need to be combined into a single document?
Do you want me to send the draft noise rules to her at the same time I send my documents for her review?
