Hi Katie –

We apologize for the delay on our end here – please find the MPR schedule attached. Please note that we intend to re-start submission of formal MPRs starting 2/15.

Additionally, we would like to have a call with you to give you an update on where we're at in terms of trench start-up as well as clarify some questions associated with the upcoming SEE Report.

If there are any particular days/times next week that work best for you please let us know and we'll work to get something on the schedule.

Best,
Sarah
