List of Handouts and Presentation Notes

- ❖ Draft statement of fiscal and economic impact

Agenda

- Welcome and introductions
- Background on the proposed rulemaking
- Purpose of the fiscal advisory committee
- Fiscal and economic impact
 - Impact to DEQ
 - Impact to state and federal agencies, local governments, general public
 - Impact to large businesses
 - Impact to small businesses

Summary of comments

- Do the proposed rules have a fiscal impact?
 - Yes. There will be less deficits and more credits generated if the proposed rules are adopted. It will be easier, and thus less costly, for regulated parties to comply with the clean fuel standards.
- What is the extent of the impact?
 - Unknown but insignificant. There might be a slight reduction in credit prices due to more credits being generated.
- Do the proposed rules have a significant adverse effect on small businesses?
 - No.

Next steps
