Item F: 2024 Total Dissolved Gas Modification Order for the Mainstem Columbia River (Action)

Presenters: David Gruen, Steve Mrazik, Jennifer Wigal

At approximately 2:30 p.m., DEQ Water Quality Administrator Jennifer Wigal introduced the action item, DEQ’s proposed modification of the 2024 Total Dissolved Gas Modification Order for the mainstem Columbia River. Steve Mrazik, Water Quality Manager, provided a broad overview of the proposed modification. Commissioners were presented with background information on Oregon’s current TDG Modification Order which expired on Aug. 31, 2024. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers requested DEQ renew its TDG modification to allow for the anticipated operations to proceed in the upcoming 2025 fish passage spill season. David Gruen, Columbia River Coordinator, presented details about the public comment process and feedback.

Second: Commissioner Amy Schlusser

The commission approved the motion unanimously. Chair Matt Donegan, Commissioner Karen Moynahan, Commissioner Amy Schlusser and Commissioner Mark Webb in favor.

Break

At approximately 2:55 p.m., the commission took a short break. Chair Donegan reconvened the meeting at 3:12 p.m.

Item G: Temporary Rulemaking for the Clean Trucks Rules (Action)

Presenters: Eric Feeley, Rachel Sakata

Rachel Sakata, DEQ Transportation Strategy Section Manager, and Eric Feeley, DEQ Air Planner, presented information to the commission on DEQ's proposed temporary rules which are designed to pause the implementation of the Heavy-Duty Low-NOx Omnibus rules for one year. If the EQC adopts the proposed delay, the rule would go into effect with engine model year 2026. Staff explained that in addition to proposing to delay the Heavy-Duty Low-NOx Omnibus rule until 2026, DEQ is also incorporating other minor changes in order to include additional zero emission powertrain flexibilities that CARB built into the Heavy-Duty Low-NOx Omnibus rule that directly connect to the ACT rule and to eliminate trailer language that was overturned in a court challenge. Commissioners asked clarifying questions about strategies to retire diesel trucks, health impacts of diesel, and investments in and timeline for infrastructure projects.

Staff explained that by adopting the proposed temporary amendment, the commission would be providing additional options vehicle manufacturers can factor into their compliance approach for the ACT rule. Staff explained how the delay would give manufacturers more time and flexibility to make up any deficits accrued for a model year, especially in the face of supply chain issues or market conditions. For the Heavy-Duty Low-NOx Omnibus rule, delayed implementation would provide more time for engine manufacturers to bring CARB certified products to market. Delaying for another year also gives DEQ the ability to learn from the California implementation for model year 2024 and 2025.

Action: Move that the Environmental Quality Commission determine that failure to act promptly would result in serious prejudice to the public interest or the interests of the parties concerned as provided under the Justification section of the DEQ staff report; and adopt TEMPORARY rules as proposed in Attachment A as part of Chapter 340, Division 257 and 261 of the Oregon Administrative Rules to be effective Jan. 1, 2025.

Move: Commissioner Mark Webb

Second: Commissioner Amy Schlusser

The commission approved the motion with a vote of 3-1. Chair Matt Donegan, Commissioner Amy Schlusser and Commissioner Mark Webb in favor. Commissioner Karen Moynahan opposed the motion.
