Mass Transit Board Sworn in by McCall

Six of the seven men named to the board of directors on the newly created Lane County Mass Transit District were sworn in Monday during a formal ceremony held in the council chamber of the Eugene city hall.

Included among the six named to the transit district board by the governor are three men from the Springfield area, Al Brandt, Leonard Wildish and Richard McDuffie.

Others on the board are Craig Robinson, president of Citizens Bank, Fred Brunner, manager of Mannings Famous Foods, Inc. of Eugene, Russ Fryburg, manager and a partner in Timber-swearing-in ceremony as Governor McCall, Springfield Mayor John McCulley, Mayor Les Anderson and other public officials from both cities looked on.

In his remarks which followed the swearing-in ceremony, Gov. McCall presented each of the six with certificates of their appointment. He also congratulated each member and expressed his personal appreciation for their agreeing to serve on the board.

Gov. McCall also told the board members that perhaps they "should all shake hands and come out fighting" as they attack what he referred to as "one of the knottiest problems" facing urban areas.
