

DEQ seeks comments on proposed Prospective Purchaser Agreement for a former industrial property at “Block 290” in Northwest Portland

The Oregon Department of Environmental Quality seeks comments on its proposed Prospective Purchaser Agreement with the City of Portland concerning the acquisition of a former industrial property at the northwest corner of NW Pettygrove and NW 20th Avenue in Portland, also referred to as Block 290. Formerly used as a truck maintenance and storage facility, the property would be redeveloped into a public park.

For more information: To view project documents and information on how to comment on this proposed action by July 1, see the public notice at <https://ordeq.org/public-notice>.
