

SHERWOOD PLANNING COMMISSION

SPECIAL MEETING OF JUNE 8, 1976

The meeting was called to order at 7:45PM by vice chairman Marge Stewart. Members Jack Gruver, Doug Smith and Dan Reber were present. Mayor Jack Harper and public works director Tad Milburn were also in attendance.

Doug Smith gave a report on the interview with the PSU placement counsellor. He said that each planning class takes a small city as a winter term project and does their comprehensive plan. Some of the graduate students are available for summer work with a negotiable hour and fee schedule. Some undergraduate students are also available at a lesser fee but with less experience. Doug recommended that use of the students be considered as a definite option for the city. After a discussion as to the leeway allowed the planning commission in hiring and salary, Marge Stewart appointed Doug Smith to represent the planning commission at the city council meeting of June 9 if chairman Wes Birch was not present.

Jack Harper announced that a highly recommended graduate student, Jill Hinckley, would be present at the planning commission meeting of June 15th for an interview. He urged all planning commission members to attend.

Work was begun to review the new LCDC format. The format feasibility was checked out by use of comparison with LCDC questions. It was decided that a definition of question #5 was needed from LCDC and the complete question was inserted into the format. (see attached final draft of format) It was moved by Jack Gruver and seconded by Dan Reber that Doug Smith and Marge Stewart take the format to Eldon Hout of LCDC prior to the meeting of the 29th for his written approval or rejection.

It was agreed by vote that the priorities of the ordinance meeting of June 15th would be (1) Interview of Jill Hinckley (2) Ordinance of low income housing (3) modified industrial zone (4) Mobile home ordinance.

It was agreed that city council members be urged to attend the planning commission work sessions for a better understanding.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:45PM.

Carol Palo, Secretary